Lotus Business School's "Farmers Education Program"

(Initiative Under IQAC)

Indian Agriculture:

Agriculture is what India has prominent as an industry after independence and the Government also understood the need to support and invest in this sector. All the five years plans and currently NITI AYOGE have been focusing on agriculture as Back Bone of the Indian Economy. Though a large amount has been invested in Agriculture and Agri-allied sector, it needs management of all its resources i.e. Land, Labor, Capital, Technology etc.

About Program:

Our Honorable prime minister pledged to double farmers income by 2022-23, government gift to the country in the 75th year of its independence and under the inspiration by this thought process Lotus Business School, Pune (top management institute affiliated with Savitribai Phule Pune University) comes with the idea of the "Farmers Education Program" which satisfies and motivates to achieve its Vision statement "To provide an ecosystem that nurtures and enhances managerial competencies through value-based education".

Need of Program:

Indian farmers are well known for their hard work and dedication to agriculture. Still keeping records of all incomes and expenses is not a habitual activity for farmers; there is a need to be practiced. Hence under this program, accounting documents are designed in the local language to simplify the record-keeping procedure. Applicability and Simplicity are the key aspects of this program.

Objective of Program:

Lotus Business School arranges a training program with the objective to educate farmers about the importance of income-expenses record-keeping and techniques used to maximize profit by minimizing expenses through cost-efficient activities.

Implementation of Program:

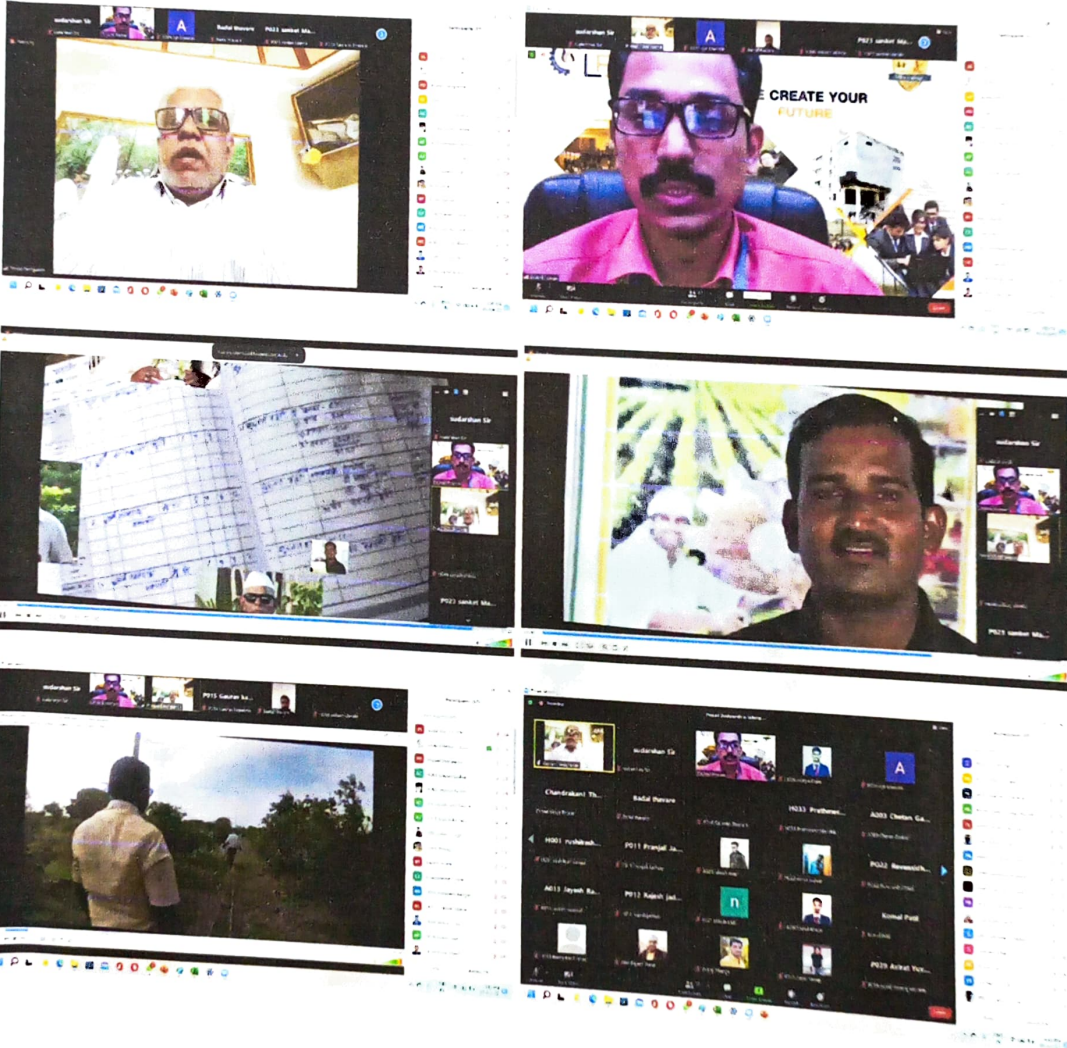

After the initiation of IQAC, Farmers Education Program is designed by Agri-Business Management and Financial Management course faculties at Lotus Business School to address the accounting part of the day-to-day farm-related activities.

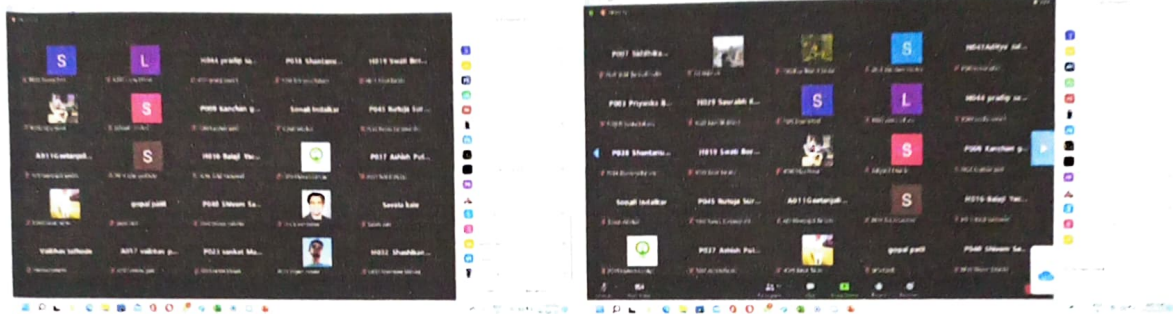

Respective faculties provide in-house training to students, after their efficient training these students arrange sessions for farmers in different villages. This training program is free of cost and provided by Lotus Business School as a social responsibility towards our beloved farmers.

Session of Expert:

Lotus Business School arranged session of Mr. Prasad Narayanrao Deshpande (Progressive farmer and Chairman of Sheti Kalyan Sanstha, Sangli) who actually implementing and extending accounting importance in farmers. He shared experience of him about limitations and usefulness of Account record keeping. This session is conducted through Zoom meeting on 05th April 2022. All students, Faculties from Lotus Business School attended this session in online mode.

After Expert session, Lotus Business School redesigned program as per Expert's opinion.

Inhouse Training:

Prof. Dr. Ganesh Pathak and Prof. Dr. Anil Poman give insight of this program to students and answered all questions and queries. All banners and materials are distributed to individuals and instructed to take maximum session.

CHOOSING THE BEST

When considering a business school, accreditation, academic rigour and affordability are crucial factors

If you're looking to go to work for a major corporation or have dreams of running your own business someday, getting a business degree is an essential first step. But choosing the best business school is no easy task. So here it is: the Business School Special 2016-17 from Business Standard—an annual survey of the best business schools in India. Business Standard's easy-to-digest rankings pages will help you make an informed decision quickly. The compilation proves something that we have known all along: You simply can't keep a good man down. The smart B-schools of India have not let go of the momentum; those that have failed to keep up the good work and live up to the expectations of students and their parents have fallen behind. That said, the reader might not see too many differences in the way the schools that have participated in the survey have been placed this year vis-a-vis their positions last year. That proves the other thing that we have heard through our student years—that consistency is a stepping stone to success.

The top schools on this list are known for their adaptability, innovation and thought leadership both in curriculum development and teaching. Many of them are active proponents of diversity in the classroom—they don't simply welcome it but actually seek it out. They take bankers, consultants, engineers and people from military backgrounds. The leaders of various programmes continue to evaluate future direction and immediate path, and without doubt they will continue to tailor offerings and programmes to offer great experiences for the myriad professionals who can benefit from an MBA.

Like previous years, this special issue will give you different perspectives on the state of business education in India vis-a-vis the rest of the world and the specific challenges before institutions that offer higher education in India. In short, our effort is to give you a package that you simply can't afford to put down.
